

treasure hunt

*opening Friday October 5th, 2001
through October 31, 2001*

Dissentia Curatorial Services strives to present artwork in a more audience accessible manner. Co-founders and curators Nick Cassway and Chris Macan select artists and locations for their shows according to the requirements of each idea. Selected previous exhibitions include: "Steal this Show", an exhibition where all the artwork was available for theft (which also garnered national attention); "100 paintings for 100 bathrooms", an exhibition curating art into the bathrooms of Philadelphia Fringe Festival Venues in 1999; and "Art2u", an installation and sale of the artwork priced under 50 dollars held in the back of a roving rental truck.

Dissentia Curatorial Services would like to thank all the participating venues who let us install work in their premises (unfortunately we cannot divulge their names at this time); Kimberley O'Dowd, poetess extraordinaire; and all of our pirates, aaarrggghhhh!

www.dissentia.com

-----fold here-----

aargh!
you must place a
stamp here

DISSSENTIA
c u r a t o r i a l s e r v i c e s
404 S. Manoa Rd
Havertown, PA 19083

-----fold here-----

Fold, tape shut, and mail this cluesheet so you can get your prize.

Information:

Questions, comments

Name:

Address

E-Mail